The Workers Compensation Act requires that the employer must post a copy of this report in a conspicuous place at or near the workplace inspected for at least seven days, or until compliance has been achieved, whichever is the longer period. A copy of this report must also be given to the joint committee or worker health and safety representative, as applicable.

A revised version of the Workers Compensation Act took effect on April 6, 2020. The B.C. government's revisions aim to make the Act easier to read and understand, and to reorganize the numbering to make laws easier to find. The revisions make no changes to B.C.'s laws concerning workers' compensation, occupational health and safety, and employers' assessment premiums. Please be aware there may be a transitional period where correspondence from WorkSafeBC may include references to either the previous Act or the revised Act. ## INSPECTION NOTES

WorkSafeBC is working to support the direction of public health agencies for slowing the progression of COVID-19 (Coronavirus) by helping workplaces to take appropriate preventive measures.

INTRODUCTION:

This Inspection Report documents that this Prevention Officer Scott Peet contacted the employers representative to discuss the following Occupational Health and Safety topics regarding COVID-19 (Coronavirus) and control measures in relation to worker health and safety at this workplace.

BACKGROUND:

The employer operates a community food bank that has been open throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, in addition the employer has recently opened the used items store under the COVID-19 BC Restart Plan - Phase 2.

COVID-19 is an infectious disease that spreads primarily through contact with an infected person when they cough or sneeze or when a person touches a surface or object that has the virus on it and then touches their eyes, nose or mouth. Symptoms include fever, chills, new or worsening cough, shortness of breath, sore throat, and muscle aches or headache, and may take up to 14 days to appear after exposure to COVID-19.

Employers are required by section 21(2)(c) of the Workers Compensation Act to establish occupational health and safety policies and programs in accordance with the Occupational Health and Safety Regulation (OHSR). The Provincial Health Officer (PHO) has directed that, in accordance with this requirement, employers must have a COVID-19 Safety Plan to assess the risk of exposure at their workplace and implement measures to keep workers safe. If a formal plan is not already in place prior to operation, an employer is expected to develop it while protecting the safety of workers.

Developing a COVID-19 Safety Plan:

A COVID-19 Safety Plan has been developed, implemented and posted for the workers and the public in this workplace.

In accordance with PHO order:

- This Safety Plan has been posted on the employer's website, and at the employer's workplace.

DISCUSSION TOPICS: Controlling the risk of COVID-19 exposure

This employer has ensured they are abiding by any orders, notices, or guidance issued by the provincial health officer, and the appropriate health authority, which are relevant to their workplace.

- A COVID-19 Safety Plan has been developed and posted at the worksite and on the website.
- COVID-19 Safety Plan has been provided to the workers and the volunteers
- Policy directing workers/volunteers to remain at home if they exhibit flu like symptoms.
- Physical distancing has been implemented
- The high touch areas on buildings, equipment and other surfaces are cleaned and sanitized.
- Enhanced cleaning has been implemented throughout the facility
- Deep clean of facility is conducted daily
- Hand sanitizer, masks and disposable gloves available for the workers
- Hand sanitizer is available at the front entrance
- Reduced capacity has been implemented
- Instruction signs posted
- Individual bagging within the food bank
- posted lunch room capacity
- 2 deep cleans per week
- Smaller crews working at a time

- Restrooms closed to the public
- Change rooms closed

It is to be noted that:

- Workers in B.C. have the right to refuse unsafe work if they believe it presents an undue hazard. WorkSafeBC Guideline - G3.12 "Refusal of unsafe work" provides information about work refusals, including a flowchart illustrating the right to refuse process. Employers must immediately investigate reports of unsafe work and ensure that any necessary corrective action is taken without delay.
- Mental health is just as important as physical health and it is important to take measures to support mental well-being. Workers in the workplace may also be affected by the anxiety and uncertainty created by the COVID-19 situation. See Available Resources.
